Power Nova induction

Power Bank with plastic shell and round base, equipped with wireless technology, which makes it possible to charge a smartphone with inductive charging, that is, without connecting it via a cable but simply by resting it on the surface of the device. The battery is available in four capacities from 2,000 mAh to 5,000 mAh. The whole surface of the plastic disc is customizable with logos and graphics printed using silk-screen printing, CMYK printing and LED printing, a technique that allows you to create layers of colour with embossed effect combined with LED backlighting. The higher or lower density of colour creates a particular light contrast that gives prominence to the chosen graphic.
