Wave Induction

The induction Power Bank with integrated LED lighting in the frame activates thanks to the movement sensor. The top surface is customisable with LED prints, a technique which highlights the logo or design thanks to backlighting which is activated when the power bank is touched or shaken. The LED light is available in five colours in order to make the logo stand out. With this 4000 mAh Power Bank, the smartphone charges up via induction, in other words, via contact. This is why at the back there are suction cups designed to make the phone stick to the bank while charging. The outlet power is 2A. There are also USB ports available for charging the phone via cable or for charging multiple devices at the same time.
