Nebula

Nebula is a liquid disinfecting diffuser that comes on thanks to a sensor when you place your hands near the dispenser. This product features a 45ml container inserted in a plastic body measuring 9cm in height and with a base measuring 7.5*5.5 cm. The container features a cylindrical cotton pad, like the ones that appear in air fresheners, which helps capture the liquid. Once filled with disinfectant (we recommend using 75% alcohol-based products), Nebula is ready for use: bring your hand a couple of centimetres away from the body; the dispenser on the surface nebulises the liquid with a powerful, well-distributed release, which quickly covers the entire surface of your hands which, in turn a few seconds later, will be fully disinfected. No contact is necessary, and this prevents contamination with non-sterile surfaces. Nebula has an internal 1800 mAh battery, which can be charged via USB cable. One reload per week is sufficient. Thanks to compact format, it is also handy when carrying in a bag; to de-activate the sensor, simply press the 'on' and 'off' button at length. The packaging includes two cotton pad chargers. Nebula is available in white and customisable with silk screen and UV logo prints.
